

Mike Rogers was born and raised in Riverton, WY. Being apart of a rodeo family, he grew up with horses and was able to turn a dream into a reality. After years of spending time and hard work with a variety of trainers, (ie; Judy Rogers, Jeff Gasson, Buck Brannamon, Ray Hunt, and Jerry Diaz), he has developed a respect for the horse's abilities and intelligence. This in turn has given him the chance to develop his own methods of reaching into the horses world to develop: "Better Horses Through Good Horsemanship".

His techniques reflect his overall feeling that the horse is your Partner and not your Slave.

Mike now owns and operates J Bar M Arena, located just south of Harrisonville, MO. Here he operates his business, Rogers Performance Horses and pursues his dream of training all types of horses, ranging from gaited horses to rodeo performance horses.
